Media Notice & Authorization

By registering for and participating in a BAR Health & Wellness class, training, workshop, or event, you acknowledge that photographs, video recordings, and audio recordings may be captured during the session.

BAR Health & Wellness may use this media for educational, promotional, marketing, social media, website, training, and internal documentation purposes. This may include the use of your image, likeness, voice, or appearance in both digital and printed materials.

Media may be used by BAR Health & Wellness without additional approval or financial compensation.

BAR Health & Wellness will make reasonable efforts to protect participants' privacy and will not intentionally disclose personal information unrelated to the media content without permission.

By completing your registration, you acknowledge that you have read and understand this Media Notice.
